

Concerned About Your Child?

Whatever the reason...

Connecting for Kids can help.

You're not alone

Connecting for Kids (CFK) provides education and support to families with concerns about their child. We serve all families, including those children with and without formal diagnoses. CFK offers educational programs, support groups, a Parent Match Program and numerous resources.

Registration is required for all programs. Register online: connectingforkids.org/register, via email: info@connectingforkids.org or call: 440-250-5563.

Speaker Series

Join us for presentations on various childhood topics by local, pediatric professionals. During the presentations, free, supervised children's activities are available, but adults and children must register separately.

Dealing with Preschool Behavior in Public

Embarrassed by your kids' behavior in public? Are there times when you don't know what to do? Do you sometimes just give in to what they are whining about because it's the easiest approach? How should you appropriately discipline in public without causing a scene? Christine Jurik, MA, BCBA, COBA, of Behavior Consulting Services, LLC, will discuss ways to deal with preschooler behavior when running errands, attending parties and participating in community functions. Jurik will also teach attendees how to address whining, yelling, tantrums, unsafe behaviors and more. Learn new behavioral strategies to feel more confident taking your preschoolers with you in the community!

Tuesday, January 17, 7:00 pm, Westlake Porter Public Library, 27333 Center Ridge Rd., Porter Room

No Body is Perfect

Are you concerned because your child has a negative body image? Do you worry about your family's mealtime behaviors and whether they are healthy? Would you recognize the signs of an eating disorder? Kelly Bhatnagar, PhD, of The Emily Program, will discuss how to model positive body image behavior and ways you can talk to your child about weight and wellness that will positively impact self-esteem. She will provide tips for keeping mealtimes healthy, social and fun to promote a peaceful relationship with food. Dr. Bhatnagar will also address what to do if you suspect your child may have an eating disorder.

Saturday, January 21, 2:00 pm, Westlake Porter Public Library, 27333 Center Ridge Rd., Porter Room

All About Reading

How can you tell if your child is having difficulty reading? What are some things you can do at home to teach your child how to read? What do you do if you suspect a disability? Tammie Sebastian, Information Specialist/Trainer at the Ohio Coalition for the Education of Children with Disabilities, will teach participants the basic foundational steps needed to learn to read. Rhyme, rhythm, pictures and phonemic awareness will be discussed and applied with a hands-on approach. Storytelling techniques will be demonstrated. How to recognize if a child is having difficulty reading and what some of the warning signs of a possible disability will also be discussed. Content geared toward preschool and elementary school families.

Winter Programs 2017

Managing Meltdowns

Do your child's meltdowns seem to last longer than normal? Are you concerned with how frequently they occur? Does the slightest thing send him or her into a downward spiral? Join Christine A. Chambers, MEd, OTR/L, of Abilities First, LLC, as she discusses ways to decrease the frequency and intensity of meltdowns in toddlers and preschoolers. Learn how to prepare your child and the environment to avoid meltdown triggers. Chambers will also teach you how to help your child recognize the signs that he or she is becoming overwhelmed and initiate age-appropriate, self-calming activities.

Saturday, March 18, 2:00 pm, Middleburg Heights Branch of Cuyahoga County Public Library, 15600 East Bagley Rd., Meeting Room.

Parenting the Anxious Child

Does your child worry excessively about grades or social situations? In class, does your child put unreasonable expectations on himself or herself? Are you looking for strategies to help reduce your child's anxiety? Join Liesl L. Glover, Ph.D., of Kenneth A. De Luca, Ph.D. & Associates, Inc., for this interactive presentation. She will discuss causes of anxiety and give specific ideas about how families can help their elementary-aged children. Dr. Glover will provide strategies to both reduce and handle worries in the home and school environment. During the presentation, there will also be time for questions.

Tuesday, March 21, 6:30 pm, Grant Elementary School, 1470 Victoria Ave., Lakewood

Introducing Sensory: A Reason for Behavior Problems?

Does your child love to spin around in circles and crash his body into things? Does she yell when she hears loud noises or sees bright lights? Does he become nervous in crowded environments? Join Denise Attie, COTA/L, of Mercy Rehabilitation Services, as she helps families recognize whether their child has sensory issues. She will provide examples of sensory-specific behaviors and discuss ways to detect the early signs of a sensory disorder. She will also provide information about resources and therapies that can improve outcomes for your toddler or preschooler.

Thursday, March 23, 6:00 pm, West River Branch of the Elyria Public Library System, 1194 West River Rd. N., Miller Room. A light dinner will be served.

Elementary ExperiencesSM

Legos and Language

Does your child struggle with conversation? Can he or she play cooperatively with others? Do you notice that your child has a difficult time expanding his or her thoughts and ideas when talking? Join Aletta Sinoff, PhD, CCC-SLP, BCBA-D, as she uses Lego activities to build cooperative play skills and help families become more effective communication partners with their children. Families will gain a better understanding of how to facilitate back and forth conversation with children who may not have developed this skill on their own.

Saturday, January 28, 2:00 pm, Lakewood Public Library, 15425 Detroit Ave., Toddlers' Story Room

Book Making: A Creative Technique to Help with School Work

Does your child have trouble concentrating on that tedious page full of multiplication facts? Is there a way to make that boring list of spelling words more exciting to enhance your child's learning ability? Dr. Nora McNamara, Child & Adolescent Psychiatrist, of University Hospitals Case Medical Center, will introduce you to the world of book making. Participants will learn how a Necklace Book allows students to practice math facts, how a Starburst Origami Book can be used as a reference for a test and how to make a Flexagon art book. Dr. McNamara will discuss how book making allows children to develop concentration and a sense of order.

Meditation Made Easy

Stressed out? Need a new strategy to bring peace to your home? Join Terri McNeely, MEd, BS, of The Child & Family Counseling Center of Westlake, as she teaches families about meditation and how it provides many benefits to children including increased focus and reduced anxiety. During this hands-on workshop, adults and children 7 years and older can spend time together and practice different types of breathing techniques. Not only will your children learn how to use meditation to rid themselves of the negative effects that stress has on the body, adults can also take advantage of these techniques too. Meditation can be applied to home, school and work environments.

Saturday, March 4, 2:00 pm, Westlake Porter Public Library, 27333 Center Ridge Rd., Dover Room

Create a Healthier Family with Better Foods

Are your kids pulling out junk food begging for a snack just before dinner? Are your kids resistant to trying new things? Dr. Casen DeMaria, DC, CACCP, of The Drugless Doctors, will discuss how the body works and what foods are best to support the brain and nervous system. Bring the whole family and learn the benefits of making food at home and the ingredients that you want to avoid. Attendees will take home recipes they can start incorporating into meal planning immediately. Dr. Casen will also show you some easy exercises and answer your questions about nutrition and wellness.
